MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL.

VOLUME XV. MILWAUKEE, WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1858. NUMBER 52.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 3

The News.

A large amount of business was transacted by our State Legislature yesterday. The report will be found under our telegraph head.

In Congress, yesterday, the day was principally occupied in debates. The House bill, making an appropriation to enable the President to fulfil the stipulations for the abolishment of the Sound dues, was passed. When the telegraph report broke off, Mr. Douglas was speaking, Bonnett, of the N. Y. Herald, is to receive a commission as U. S. Minister to Austria, as his pay for supporting the Administration. Bonnett has been after this these many years, but we have never had a President before who dared to take the responsibility of appointing him.

We have later news from Mexico and Texas. Mexico is still engaged in civil wars, and it is expected Santa Anna will proceed in a Spanish war steamer to that distracted country, immediately.

A meeting of the Democrats of this city, is to be held at Market Hall, on Saturday evening, to find out how the party stands on National Politics.

New York market exhibited more firmness yesterday, and prices went up slightly. Home market active, with very large receipts of wheat.

THE HARBOR QUESTION.—It will be seen by a notice in our columns, that a meeting of the citizens opposed to an outrageous fraud practiced upon the city, by submitting the question of the amount due the Harbor contractors to arbitrators already committed to paying them all they have asked, is called at Armory Hall, this evening.

The Council, by repeated votes decided not to pay over $46,000, affirming that that was all that was due. It appointed a referee under this vote in ignorance of the fact that he had advocated this payment of the full claim of the contractors for $95,000. And this referee, in conjunction with the contractors referee, has proceeded to elect a third referee who has urged the Council by petition, last Monday night week, to pay the whole sum asked.

Monday evening the Council met, and would have evoked the appointment of Mr. Medbury, but two of the Council, Messrs. Read and McCormick, bolted, sneaked out, and left the Council without a quorum, and it was adjourned till last evening.

Last evening there was no quorum, nearly all of the contractors' friends being absent. Ald. Hayden stated that one of the contractors came to him and requested him to stay away, saying that his friends generally would not attend.

The whole design of the movement was to put over the meeting of the Council, till the referees have made their award, and thus bind the city to pay the full claim of the contractors. The referees meet to-morrow. To-night is the last opportunity for the Tay payers, to protest against this Swindle—this bare-faced attempt of a minority to smother the voice of the people, outrage public opinion, and increase by Fifty Thousand Dollars, the debts of an oppressed community.

Turn out, one and all, to the meeting.

RESULT OF THE MADISON ELECTION.—The election at Madison, on Monday, passed off quietly. The telegraph reported the democratic ticket, viz: George B. Smith, for Mayor, J. K. Proudfit, for Treasurer, and A. B. Braley, Police Justice, elected by 400 majority. Six democratic Aldermen elected.

XXXVth Congress—First Session.

WASHINGTON, March 1.

HOUSE.—Mr. Florence, of Pa., presented a memorial from the mechanics and underwriters of Philadelphia, against any alterations of the law establishing the light house system. Referred.

The House then discussed at some length the bill for the re organization of the clerks and other employees of the House, pending the decision of which, an argument took place. It was decided that the bill should be taken up.

SENATE.—Mr. Green called up the bill for the admission of Kansas.

Gwin and Broderick objected, as the Pacific Railroad bill had priority in order of business.

Mr. Green, of Missouri, gave notice that he should offer a substitute providing for the admission of Minnesota and Kansas together, hoping thereby to expedite business. He then proceeded to advocate the report of the majority of the Committee, remarking that the leading controlling facts stated in that document could not be successfully controverted. An attempt had been made in the minority reports to evade some of them, but they stood unassailed. He then passed to a personal explanation touching the statement in regard to the action of the Committee, published in the N. Y. Tribune, which asserted that a majority of the Committee made a positive promise to Messrs. Douglas and Collamer not to vote till the succeeding Monday, but subsequently violated the agreement. He proceeded to show the falsity of this statement, by a detail of the facts in the case.

A discussion of some length ensued between Messrs. Green and Douglas.

Mr. Green said he had a substitute for the bill reported by the majority of the Committee which he would offer at the proper time. This substitute provided for the admission of Kansas and Minnesota together. The object being to expedite the business before the Senate, so that other important business might come up for consideration. He then argued the legality of the Kansas Constitution, contending that it was republican in form, and that it was the choice of the people. The population of Kansas was sufficient to entitle her to one representative, and the constitution of the United States prescribes no specific number of inhabitants to the admission of a State. He referred to the unsettled state of the Territory as a powerful and overwhelming reason for admission. He would give peace to the Territory. He had received information to day of a murder committed by parties opposed to the Constitution, and that Gen. Whitfield had been driven from the Territory with threats of assassination. This, he said, was the reason of the absence of Federal officers in Kansas. It is useless to cry peace, where there will be none, until Kansas comes into the Union.

Mr. Collamer, of Vt., followed. He referred to the Missouri Compromise, as having settled the Slavery agitation; and it being a fair bargain, he thought it unjust in the South, after receiving her portion of the advantage, to repudiate the compact. Who believed, he asked, in 1854, that Slavery would exist in Kansas. It was a well settled principle, that the power to regulate implied the power to prohibit. Mr. C. quoted instances to show when this power had been exercised, and referred to a case in Mississippi, in 1795, as a case in point.

He defended the Emigrant Aid Society, denying that emigrants from the North went to Kansas merely to vote without designing to stay there. He referred to the fraudulent elections carried by interlopers from Missouri, and to other gross outrages into which the government had never inquired.

WASHINGTON, March 2.

House—The House resumed the consideration of the bill regulating the pay and the number of employees of the House. An uninteresting debate ensued.

Senate—The House bill making an appropriation of $408,000 to enable the President to fulfill the treaty stipulations for the abolition of the Sound Dues, was passed.

Mr. Seward introduced a bill to amend the act of March 3d, 1857, regulating the carrying of passengers in steamships and other vessels; referred.

Mr. Evans, of South Carolina, submitted a bill for the amendment of the patent laws.

Mr. Houston presented a bill for the organization of a regiment of mounted volunteers for the protection of the Texan frontiers; also authorizing the President to raise additional regiments of volunteers.

The resolution presented by Mr. Douglas, on February 4th, calling for information on Kansas affairs, was taken up.

Mr. Douglas is speaking.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.—Martin Bigler was fined $5 for being drunk and disorderly.

John Bigler and James Collins were fined $10 each, also for drunkness and disorderly conduct,

THE COLLINGWOOD ROUTE.—Situated as Milwaukee is at one of the great Western termini of this route, it is natural that she should feel no little interest in the re-establishment of the line next summer. Two years ago, the boats of this line brought a large number of passengers to this city, destined for the North-West, although there was much dissatisfaction expressed at the difficulties of making connections coming West.—We are glad to learn that a new and important movement is on foot and nearly consummated, for placing this line on a footing of great efficiency during the coming season. The company have arranged for five Steamers and several Propellers to run in the line on the Upper Lakes. It will be remembered that the Collingwood Line or Company are building the necessary number of Iron Propellers in Clyde, Scotland, to form a daily line between Toronto and this city, which will in due time take their place. We understand, also, that vigorous competition for western freight and emigrant travel will be entered upon by parties connected with this line at the East, and with the facilities for travel, which they will be prepared to offer, it is evident that the road will do a good business, and tend no little towards enliving matters in Milwaukee. Success to the Collingwood line.

THE JUNEAU GUARDS.—We published yesterday "General Orders No. 8," from Head Quarters at Madison, granting the application for the organization of this new military company, and saying that commissions would be issued to the officers. Too much praise cannot be allotted to the members of the Juneau Guard for the interest they are taking in military matters, and it appears evident that they are determined not to be beaten by any other company in the city.—They evince an interest in their drill meetings which might be followed to advantage by all other companies, having on every occasion turned out nearly the whole company. The organization was effected late in the season, and what they have lost in time this winter they are making up by close application now. Probably, their first "general training" will take place about the Fourth of July, at which time our citizens may be prepared to see a military company of which they will have reason to feel proud.—Meanwhile, in case of fire, Supply Hose No. 1 will not be left behind the crowd.

THE FIRST SAILING VESSEL ON THE LAKES.—Considerable interest has been felt as to which was the first sailing vessel over built upon the lakes. An investigation has proved, according to the Detroit Lyse Press, that the first sailing vessel that ever plowed the waters of our inland lakes was built in the year 1679, on the Niagara River, about six miles above the Falls, and was called the Griffin. She was a sloop of sixty tons burden, carrying five guns, and was built by Chevalier De La Salle, commander of an expedition designed for the exploration of the great chain of lakes more fully than had previously been done in canoes. She started on her voyage on the 7th of August in the same year, and made a successful trip across Lake Erie, but encountered a storm on Lake Huron which came very near shipwrecking her. Of her ultimate fate there is no record.

BOOK BINDING.—All monthlies and other magazines that are worth taking are worth binding; and me ny even save their home newspaper for binding. There are a great many good magazines taken in this region that should be bound; and as our place grows the number of these will increase. Milwaukee is doubtless the best place to send these works for binding; and from what we have seen in the papers, we conclude the Bindery connected with the Sentinel office is equal to any in the city, if not the best. It is convenient to send to Milwaukee at any time; and should there be an agent in this village to act for that bindery, it will be still more convenient for those who want binding done.—Kilbourn City Mirror.

☞ The attention of millers and flour dealers is especially directed to the advertisement of Farwell's Steam Bag manufactory, 42,44 and 46 Wabash Avenue. He possesses unrivalled facilities, in his new and costly machinery, necessary in carrying on a bag manufactory larger than any out of and not excelled by any in the cities of New York or Boston. He informs us that he has now facilities for making and printing 16,000 sacks per day, and that the same will be extended as his growing trade demands. Millers and others ordering from him, can depend upon their orders being filled promptly, and their bags neatly printed with appropriate and beautiful brands. Address Farwell's Steam Bag Factory, Chicago.

A NEW BANKING HOUSE.—The dull season is nearly over, and the prospects for a lively spring grow brighter every day. Already, we are pleased to learn, a number of Houses which have been looking for some western city, which presents sufficiently flattering prospects to induce them to settle in, have decided to locate in Milwaukee. Among the number we notice the new Banking, Exchange and Passage Office of Messrs. BACHMAN & METZ, located at No. 227 East Water Street. The house is prepared to do an extensive business in their line, and are highly recommended by leading banking houses abroad, and by one of the prominent banks of our own city.

THE FESTIVAL AT WAUKESHA TOMORROW NIGHT.—The grand ball in honor of the dedication of Robinson's new Hall at Waukesha, comes off tomorrow night. The Waukesha people are enthusiastic in praising their new Hall, and no pains will be spared to make the opening festival a pleasant affair. A good many of our citizens are expected to attend.

GLASGOW AND NEW YORK STEAMERS.—Mr. HIGBY, the Western Agent for this old established line of ocean steamers, advertises this morning the time of the arrivals at and departure from New York of the steamers, during the present month.

COMMON COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—THE HARBOR MATTER AGAIN.—A regular meeting of the Common Council was held on Monday night. There was barely a quorum present, and before the Council had proceeded far in the transaction of business, some of the tax-eating Aldermen purposely absented themselves, in order, no doubt, to defeat the adoption of a resolution offered by Ald. Prentiss to prevent the consummation of the Harbor plot, as will be readily seen by the proceedings. It was found when the vote was about to be taken upon the adoption of the resolution that there was not a quorum present, and according to the rules, the Council then stood adjourned to the next regular meeting, but by the request of a number of the members, the Mayor consented to call a special meeting for last night. After some discussion upon a parliamentary question, Alderman Prentiss presented a petition from Geo. W. Peckham, in relation to a special tax for opening a street, which the petitioner stated had not been opened, and requesting the Council to remit the same, amounting to $660. Alderman McCormick moved to have the petition laid on the table in order to give the 3rd ward Aldeman an opportunity to enquire about the matter, which was carried.

A petition from Le Druit & O'Brien, asking permission to erect a wooden building in the 3d Ward, was referred to local committee of that ward.

Several other petitions and accounts were presented and also referred.

The Chair presented a communication from Martin B. Medbury, who was appointed at the last meeting of the Council as referee on the part of the city to adjust the Harbor difficulty, accepting the appointment. The Mayor also presented a communication from Mr. Hasbrouck, stating that he had appointed Alenson Sweet as referee on his part. Also, a communication from these gentlemen, stating that they had appointed J. J. Tallmadge as the third referee; also, a communication stating that they had held a meeting and adjourned to meet in the Council room on Thursday, the 4th inst., to take the matter into consideration.

A communication from the City Attorney was read, recommending the Council to appoint a Committee acquainted with the Harbor matter to attend the referees.

The several communications were ordered to be placed on file.

Ald. Read moved that Jason Downer be appointed assistant counsel on the part of the city to attend to the meeting of the referees.

Alderman Prentiss objected to the Council's proceeding further with the matter. He had a resolution to offer which would obviate the necessity of making any other appointments in this reference matter. The reference by the Council he thought was all wrong, and the resolution appointing referees, was sprung upon the Council at the last meeting after midnight, when the members were all tired and no time was given to discuss or consider the propriety of such a measure. The referees too, were decidedly objectional. Alderman Prentiss knew positively that Mr. Medbury had committed himself emphatically in favor of allowing the whole claim of the Harbor contractor, and at the last meeting Mr. Tallmadge signed a petition to the Council requesting that the contractor be paid the full amount of his demand, and expressing his opinion that the Council was bound to do so according to the contract. Alderman Prentiss did not know anything about Mr. Sweet. He might or might not be prejudiced one way or the other, but it was quite evident that the other referees were unfit to act as arbitrators, both of them having committed themselves against the city; and furthermore, Alderman Prentiss was decidedly opposed to any reference whatever, because the Council was not called upon according to the original clause in the contract providing for references, to appoint or permit any such reference, unless they were unable to agree as to the prices of extra work; there had been no such disagreement, and there was no need of references according to the contract.

He would move to rescind the action of the Council in appointing a referee. Alderman Prentiss read the clause to which he alluded, which makes the decision of the referees binding upon the Council, and urged the adoption of his resolution to rescind the whole matter, and leave it as it was before; Alderman Hadley denied that the action of the referees was binding upon the Council. The Council need not abide by the decision of the referees unless they approve of such decision. He did not believe that the gentleman's having signed a petition, or expressed an opinion in favor of the one side or the other, was any objection to their acting as referees.—People express hasty opinions every day, upon any and every subject, but that would not disqualify them from being impartial referees.—Alderman Hadley spoke at great length, upon the high standing and ability of the referees, and he hoped the Council would not rescind the resolution which had been unanimously adopted, appointing the referee. The committee was already organized and commenced operations.—He was in favor of the fullest investigation, and would vote to appoint Mr. Downer as Assistant Council, to advise with the City Attorney, to protect the interest of the City, and he would also favor the appointment of the gentlemen from the 7th Ward a chairman of the committee to attend to the investigation of the referees.

Alderman Prentiss arose to say, that the gentleman from the 1st Ward was mistaken, when he asserts that the decision of the referees was not final and binding, not only upon the City, but upon the part of the contractor, and if the Council refused to abide by that decision, Mr. Hasbrouck might bring suit against the City, and get a judgment upon that award. The decision beyond all doubt, would be against the City.

Ald. Plankinton expressed himself most emphatically against the reference. He was in favor of bringing the matter before a court, and he would be satisfied to abide by the decision of a jury. If the contractor's claim were just, he would not occupy all the time he had in trying to pettifog the matter through the council when he might get a judgment in half the time. He had a high opinion of the gentlemen to whom the reference was made, but they had openly committed themselves, and they were not therefore competent referees. The gentleman from the 1st ward, he said, pretended to stand up for the interests of the city, but he seems to have taken directly an opposite course in relation to this matter.

Ald. Hadley did not think a gentleman being a member of the Council, made it imperative upon him to give up his ideas of justice and right, and he spoke at considerable length in vindication of his course.

Ald. Read, advocated the reference and disapproved of rescinding the matter.

After rather a lengthy discussion, the motion to table the resolution, appointing Mr. Downer was lost.

Ald. Reed offered an amendment to his resolution, which was that a committee consisting of three, be appointed to act in connection with Mr. Downer.

Ald. Prentiss, again opposed the matter of reference in every shape. Let the matter be settled in a court of justice, if the contractor are not willing to abide by the decision of the Council.

Ald. Reed, Prentiss, Hadley and Plankinton, discussed the matter of reference, at considerable length, and when the resolution appointing the committee was put to a vote it was lost.

Ald. Prentiss then called up his resolution to rescind the whole matter and urged its adoption, which Alderman Hadley opposed. Ald. Prentiss object, he said it was to compel the contractors to bring suit against the City, and get what was justly due them. He had conversed with taxpayers, both Americans and Germans, and the unanimous opinion was that the matter should be decided by a court of justice, and he knew from the beginning that no other course would satisfy the public, and he had no doubt, but that would be satisfactory whatever the decision might be.

Ald. Hadley, would appeal to the gentlemen's candor and ask him whether he would press the passage of his resolution, their being barely a quorum present, and the measure which they were about to rescind, having been adopted when there was a full board present, (about this time, some of the Hadley men, slyly absconded.)

Ald. Prentiss gave his reason for pressing the passage of his resolution. The referees, by their communications this evening, have stated their intention to meet on Thursday, for the final adjustment of the matter. They had committed themselves before they were appointed against the City, and their decision would undoubtedly correspond with their opinions. It was not his fault if there was not a full attendance of members. If the Council were to meet again to-morrow, and a full board were to be present, he would not object to postponing the adoption of the resolution. But if the Council now adjourns without rescinding this measure, the referees will probably decide against the City, before the next meeting.

Ald. Hadly said this was a plan to drive the city into a lawsuit. He was opposed to lawsuits when they could be avoided.

Ald. Prentiss still sustained the adoption o his rescinding resolution.

Ald. Plankinton moved the calling of the roll, when it was found that there were only 13 members present.

The Marshal was then despatched in search of the absentees, and after waiting some time the roll was again called and there were but 11 members present.

A discussion here took place upon the propriety of adjourning, when the Mayor read rule 3d from the rules and regulations of the Council, which provides that when it shall be found that there is not a quorum present, the Council stands adjourned, until the next regular meeting, so that he could not entertain a motion, but if desired would call a special meeting for Tuesday night. And as several expressed themselves in favor of it it was so understood, when the remaining members adjourned.

PROCEEDINGS LAST NIGHT.—The Council, or rather ten of the members met last night, and this number not constituting a quorum, the meeting stood adjourned until one week from next Monday. This was a part of the Tax-Eaters programme in carrying out the Harbor plot, and deceiving the people. The so called referees are to meet to morrow, to arrange the final "adjustment," and unless the people do something decisive to-day, the outrage will be consumated, and the nice little bill of $95,000 will have to be floated, by the tax-payers!

HARBOR MEETING TO-NIGHT!

All the friends of retrenchment and reform, who are opposed to having a debt of $95,000 saddled on the city by trickery and fraud, are invited to meet at the Light Guard Armory, corner of Spring and West Water streets, at 7 o'clock this evening, to express their views in reference to the fraud practiced upon the city in the appointment of these referees on the Harbor contract, (all of whom have expressed themselves in favor of paying the contractors the full sum claimed) and desire to take such action as may be deemed necessary to save the city from paying an unjust claim of $50,000. Let every tax-payer be present.

By request of the Alderman opposed to Injustice and Fraud.

LADIES FESTIVAL.—We are informed that the ladies of the South Presbyterian Church are getting up an "old folk's Concert and Tableaux Soiree," which is to take place at Albany Hall on the 9th inst. We have not seen the programme but learn that the festival will be a grand affair. The proceeds are to be devoted to the use of the Church.

THE WATERTOWN RAIL ROAD DIFFICULTY SETTLED.—We learned last evening with pleasure that the difficulties between the M. F. & M. R. R. Co., and Mr. Freeman, had been amicably adjusted, by Mr. Freeman's giving up full possession to the purchasers, and withdrawing all his men from the road. No doubt all of our citizens and others interested in the welfare of the road will rejoice to hear of the result.

OCEAN STEAMERS.—By an advertisement in our paper we see that the noble steamship Vanderbilt will resume her trips from New York to Southampton and Havre, on April 10th. This steamer has, by her extraordinary passages last season, well earned the title she proudly bears of "The Champion of the Seas." We learn that many passengers are already secured for her first trip.

A DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—In another column is a call for a Democratic Mass Meeting, to be held in Market Hall, on Saturday evening next, for the purpose of considering the present condition of the party, and giving expression to the views of the party in this city, on National politics. The call is signed by nearly one thousand, and among them the leading Democrats of the city.

NEW BOOKS.—STRICKLAND, this morning, advertises some new and already very popular works.

CHICAGO MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—The Journal of last evening says:

At the time of going to press the election is progressing quietly, not a single outbreak having occurred, although some arrests have been made for illegal voting.

The excitement, however, is high, and an unusually large vote has been polled.

It is believed that the Republican ticket is handsomely ahead.

The polls at 12 o'clock showed an aggregate in the following wards of more than half the entire vote, viz:—1st ward, 349; 2d, 1,052; 9th, 895; 8th, 657; 9th, 509.

At 9 o'clock last night we received a despatch, but the returns had not yet been fully canvassed. The vote is the heaviest, it is said, that has ever been polled at Chicago, and the Republican ticket is largely ahead.

MILWAUKEE:

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 3.

The Great Struggle in Congress.

The N. Y. Express thus gives its views of the great struggle pending in Congress, and the Administration programme:

"We learn from Washington that all the powers of the Federal Government are to be exerted, to force the Kansas question to a vote, if possible, next (this) week. The programme, with that end in view, is all make out, and, as the thirty days to which the President is said to have limited himself "to put the Lecompton Constitution through Congress, or burst,"—are about up, the event may be looked upon as one of life or death to the administration, if not to our countrymen, in Kansas. The House Committee, appointed to "investigate," under Mr. Harris' resolution, are urged to a conclusion, without having had opportunity to touch more than the outside crust of the stupendous frauds which mark almost every leaf in the history of that now celebrated instrument. On Monday the bill for the admission of the territory into the Union, as a State, under the Lecompton arrangement, will come up as the order of the day. Mr. Green, of Mo., a thorough-paced Lecomptonite, it is understood, will make as strong an appeal in its favor as the nature of the case will permit; and after this summing up of the case for the government, the tactics of the administration party, it is understood, will have reference not so much to speech-making as to the curtailment of debate, with a view to pass to a vote as speedily as possible.

To resist these tactics will undoubtedly be the wisest policy of the opposition; for though, as things stand at present, the administration will probably be able to drive the constitution through the Senate, it is of the utmost importance that the main question should not be put until the subject is thoroughly debated, and presented to the country in all its bearings. True, the people already have a tolerably vivid appreciation of the foul wrong which the Federal Government is attempting upon our brethren in Kansas, —but, in the exposures that are yet to come from Judge Douglas and other leading Senators, the full enormity of that wrong can hardly fail to be exhibited in such a manner as must rouse up in the public mind to the during approach to dictatorial and despotic powers which the Federal Government is making—in the teeth of protests, not only from Kansas, but from the people and the people's representatives throughout the entire North, and—we are happy to say—from some of the most influential sections of the South. We trust, therefore, that there will be no crowding through Lecompton in the Senate. We desire to have the freest sort of discussion there,—because, if the result of that discussion will be the stirring up of a powerful outside public sentiment, we dare to hope that the nefarious scheme it it succeed in the Senate, will be strangled in the House—the members of which are supposed to be more directly under the influence of the popular will than the upper house.

It is in the House that the battle in the end, will be most fiercely fought—for there the forces are so nicely balanced, that it is impossible to tell how the scale may turn;—and we do not know how the Opposition in the Senate can, just now, better help their friends in the House, than by resisting any attempt to bring the debate to a conclusion,—before the scrutiny is applied to the Great Fraud, and all its corruptions laid bare. Meanwhile, let the House keep a vigilant eye upon the Palace. Watch every movement looking to the procurement of votes for the Lecompton Constitution, by direct or indirect offers of Federal Patronage,—and when these can be exposed let the exposure be made. These or four votes in the House, it is pretty certain, will turn the scale, and, in order to give it the Administration turn, no doubt the most powerful temptation will be thrown in the way of certain members, with whom personal considerations may weigh more than the maintenance of great principles. Unbelievers by the Federal Admiinistration, it is morally certain, if a vote were had on the Lecompton Constitution to-day, it would be rejected even in the House of Representatives, by a decisive majority,—but, as it is impossible to resist the conviction that the immense influence and patronage of the White House are to be used in favor of that instrument,—it behooves the Opposition to keep a sarleitor watch now than ever, in order to counteract every corrupt application of that patronage and influence, "by authority." Corruption and Fraud have marked the history of this Lecompton Constitution from the beginning, and there is no reason to believe that corruption and fraud are not going to be its accompaniments to the end."

Carrying on the Joke.

It must be extremely gratifying to our "prodigous" City Attorney, if he sufficiently appreciates the joke, to see his pretended friend, the News, slying laughing at that well paid official, while it would have him believe that it is "puffing" him. Here is the latest joke the News has got off at the expense of the "Major:"

"What aggravates these frequent assaults upon Gen. Foote, is the fact—one well known to the Sentinel—that the City Attorney is vigilant and laborious, meriting well of the appreciative citizens of the city. And yet our neighbor has the hardihood to affect a laugh at our expense for using the word "prodigious" as descriptive of the Attorney's labors. Neighbor, you should have reflected a moment. Didn't you know that on the Attorney's docket are constantly as many cases—important cases—as three lawyers, all together, should attend to?—But if you do not know this fact, be apprised of it, and cease to abuse him. And do not again affect to ridicule as if we shall ever apply other pregnant adjectives as descriptive of Gen. Foote's ("pro-di-gi-ous") services to the city."

The News had better not carry the joke too far, else it may provoke the wrath of our "prodigious" City Attorney!

"ANOTHER FRAUD DETECTED."—Under this caption the News of yesterday gloats over the rumored detection of Assemblyman Webb's feloniously altering an appropriation bill, and takes the opportunity to express its dissatisfaction at the impartiality of the Republican investigators in the following paragraph, which discloses the three sentiments of the News upon the subject:

"So they run. But isn't it about time to arrest the investigation? The understanding was, among the republican managers, when they consented to this game, that none but democrats were to be overhauled. If any attempt should be made to stir up the republican waters, the Committee and the Governor were to interfere with all their combined powers; in short, the agreement was, that no republican should be hurt! Let Randall step into the ring."

The fact is, the News has been watching with troubled anxiety to detect some act of impartiality on the part of the Republicans, and gives vent to its disappointment in this spleeny manner.

EMIGRATION DURING THE PAST YEAR.—The annual report of the State Department on emigration, according to the Washington States, shows that the whole number of arrivals in the United States in 1857 was, males 162,638, females 109 020; total 271,658; died on the passage 424, total embarkations 271,982. Of this number there were from England 27,800, Ireland 57,381, Scotland 4,182, Wales 769, France 2,397, Prussia 7,933, Germany 83,798, China 5,944, Great Britain and Ireland, exclusive of above, 25,754; total of foreigners was 261,306. The number of our own citizens who returned from abroad was 20,676. Of the emigrants there are under twenty years of age 97,053, over twenty years and under forty 130,658, over forty 22,808. Of the various occupations there were farmers 34,702, mechanics 18,074, laborers 48,249. The number of passengers intending to remain as residents of the United States was 243,562. The number of arrivals is 41,606 more than in 1856 and 47,486 more than in 1855. The principal increase in the number of emigrants is from Great Brittain, Prussia and Germany. The number from Ireland is only twelve more than in 1856. There were five thousand less than last year from France, and one thousand more Chinese emigrants. The proportion in ages and occupations is very nearly the same for a number of years.

PORK PACKING IN THE WEST.—The Cincinnati Price Current, on the subject of pork packing in the west says, "owing to the lateness o the packing season, as compared with previous seasons, we shall not be able to give our full report of the number of hogs packed in the west, as early as we did last year; but this being a matter of great importance to our subscribers, as well as to the entire business community, we will give all the information we have received up to date, bearing upon the subject.

We have received returns from one hundred and six places, where packing has closed, and will give the aggregate for each State, as far as the returns have been received, reserving the details for our full and final report.

		1856-7	1857-8
15 places in	Ohio fcst up	400,850	510,782
1 do	Kentucky fcst up	887,015	355,874
44 do	Indiana do	239 283	371,592
29 do	Illinois do	375 947	570 557
13 do	Missouri do	126,101	194 847
		1,39.,345	1,769 292
			1,491,245
Increase			278,667

The whole number packed at all the places reported last year was 1,818,408, and the previous year 2,489,602. The whole number of places reported last year was one hundred and ninety. It is pretty clear that the ratio of increase will not be as large at the places yet to hear from, as those above reported. In northern Illinois, hogs larded badly, and there is a falling off in this article in that section, as compared with last year. There is an increase in weight of from three to twenty pounds per hog, at nearly all the places heard from, and as a general thing, except in the section named, the yield of lard has been over that of last year; but what the exact increase is we cannot say until our returns are completed. Our opinion is that it cannot be less than 4 per cent., or over 6 per cent.

Melancholy Occurrence.

Correspondence of the Presbyterian of the West.

OXFORD, OHIO, Feb. 23.

In common with many of your readers, you will be shocked to hear that one who participated with us in the delightful exercise of the Convention in our city, only a few days ago, has already met a violent and voluntary death! The Rev. Seth Rowell, in a fit of deep and protracted melancholy, committed suicide by hanging, in his own house, on Thursday, the 18th inst.

The deceased was a native of Wales, but had spent most or all his ministerial life in this country. He was settled for some years at Mt. Sterling, in the bounds of Columbus Presbytery. He then removed to Spring Hill, Campaign county, where he served the Stony Creek Church,—in October last; he came to Oxford with a view to the education of his interesting family, consisting of three sons and three daughters. He was engaged, as stated supply to the Church at College Corner for one half of his time, and the alternate Sabbaths were occupied in other vacancies as opportunity offered. For several months past he had been subject to deep depression. His chief distress seemed to be the apprehension that his family would come to want.

For this no one but himself could see any special cause. He owned a small farm in the vicinity of Columbus, and other property in Oxford, to the value of several thousand dollars. His family were all in health, and progressing well in their education. The eldest son teaching, with fair prospects, in order to relieve his father's anxiety about support. But such was the settled gloom and despondency of his mind, that he could see nothing but certain poverty and suffering in the future. His family and friends had suggested many plans for his relief. But the disease seemed to bear down all resolution, and left him powerless to execute any measure proposed.

He returned to the Convention on Friday, and complained to his wife that he alone could not enjoy the exercises, on account of the heavy burden upon his mind. On Sabbath he filled his appointment as usual, but seemed overwhelmed with a sense of his unworthiness and unfitness for his sacred calling. This he communicated to his wife as they returned from the church. On Wednesday evening he started to attend the weekly prayer-meeting in the church he served, but after travelling near two miles he returned, saying his distress was so great he could not proceed.—This he had done once before on the Sabbath.

On Thursday morning, a lady residing close by called in to see how he was. He complained of much distress, but as he had slept better than usual the previous night, and evinced no unusual symptom, his family felt no greater alarm than for some time before. He left the room where Mrs. H. and the lady referred to were in conversation, and went out, as they supposed, for a walk, which he was in the habit of doing very often. The day being cold, and not seeing him return in fifteen or twenty minutes, Mrs. H. went out to look for him. Seeing nothing of him, she went up stairs, and, in a vacant and unfinished room, to her indescribable horror, she found him suspended by a rope to the rafters. Her screams brought the lady instantly to the spot. He was cut down, and medical aid called with all possible dispatch. But, alas! all human aid was powerless. The burdened spirit had fled from its load of mortality and care.

Reason and conscience, as it would seem for a moment, had become utterly clouded, and hence he was impelled, by some diabolical influence, to the commission of a crime from which every Christian mind recoils with the utmost horror.—Such, alas! is our frailty. Such our constant dependence upon the upholding power and the straining grace of our omnipotent Saviour! Let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall. But for the watchful care and sustaining power of our gracious Redeemer, the great Adversary would no doubt succeed in driving us all to despair, and to dishonor our office and our religion by similar crimes. The alarming frequency of such events of late should prompt every one, and especially those who are tempted, to increasing watchfulness and prayer.

Gov. Walker.

The rumor that Gov. Walker had succumbed to the Administration on the Kansas question is disposed of by his letter to the Anti-Lecompton Convention lately held at Indianapolis, dated Washington Feb. 20. After a review of Kansas affairs he puts the following significant queries:

Where are we, and in what direction are we drifting? Are we upon the banks of the Bosphorus or Danube, or upon soil consecrated to popular sovereignty by the blood of the Revolution? Is it Executive edicts or sovereign rights that constitute the liberties of our country? Are we freemen "who know our rights, and knowing dare maintain," or are we vassals, serfs, or slaves, palace slaves, that will cringe or change at the stamp of the foot of a master? Is it the people and States, as represented in the Senate and House of Representatives, who are to record their votes as indicated by their unbiased judgment; or are they merely to register executive edicts, under penalties for refusal of denunciation and proscription? Is the President the master or the servant of the people, that he should thus dictate to them or their representatives, under threats of exclusion from the party of their choice? Is Democracy a name and shadow, or a substance? It means the power of the people.—This is its vital essence. Or has it lost its true signification, or are we moving from it with viewless but rapid strides towards despotic power, to make and unmake the rules of political faith under pains and penalties abhorrent to the souls of freemen? Is this the 82d year of our Independence, or is it the first year of American monarchy, that is now dawning upon us?—Let the people—let the masses composing the true Democracy, arouse from their slumbers.—Let them break the chains which would fetter their free thought and free opinion, and assert their blood-bought rights, and especially the great, indefeasible, sovereign right of self-government. We have fallen upon evil times. The liberty of the country is in danger. Let the people in every town, county and State rise in their majesty to the rescue. Let the timid or corrupt falter as they may; let the Democracy of Indiana, now in mass meeting assembled, proclaim in tones that shall echo throughout our Republic, that the spirit of the Revolution is not extinct in their bosoms, but that from the lakes of the North to the lovely valleys of the Wabash and Ohio, you, the Democracy of Indiana, will stand as one undaunted column by the great principle of popular sovereignty, sustained by them at the polls in 1856, as embodied in the submission of the constitution or ratification or rejection, by the unfettered vote of the people of Kansas and every other Territory.

Mexican Affairs---Comonfort.

We have all along, in our comments on Mexican affairs, expressed a strong sympathy with the Liberal party, and with Comonfort's Government as acting in the interest of that party as against the Church and State Conservatives.—But Comonfort in his present position is no longer entitled to be considered as the head or representative of the Mexican Liberal party. In fact, the unfortunate convulsions in Mexico, one of the first consequences of which has been his own expulsion, have grown entirely out of Comonfort's want of fidelity to the Liberal party, to which he was indebted for his elevation. Instead of standing by that party and doing his best to carry out, or if that were not possible, to modify by constitutional means the new Constitution, which the Liberal Congress had framed, Comonfort undertook, of his own mere motion, and by his own sole authority, to set aside that Constitution, and to substitute a dictatorship of his own in its place. It was not in any attempt to sustain the Liberal party, but in an attempt to set up himself, backed by the Army, as a new or third party, a sort of compromise between the Liberals and the Conservatives, that Comonfort has fallen to the ground. Little disposed as we are to say anything calculated to wound his feelings, it is impossible to stand by and see him claimed as the head of the Mexican Liberal party, and assistance asked of this country to reinstate him in the government he has lost, without calling attention to the truth. It has been still more the distrust of the Liberal party, whom he had just abandoned, and even the distrust of his own soldiers, on whom he had relied to carry out his coup d'etat, than the arms or influence of the Conservatives, that have driven Comonfort from Mexico. Generals like Inglesias, Zamora and Zarate, who owed their positions entirely to Comonfort, abandoned him and returned to the constitutional order as soon as they saw that alleged difficulties in operating the Constitution were but a pretext on his part for deserting the Liberal party, to which he owed his election

As to that party, it is not surprising if, with this new instance of want of fidelity, they refused any longer to recognize as their chief a man who, at three different times before, since his accession to power, had sought to bargain with the clergy, and thus to risk if not to thwart the objects which the Liberals had chiefly at heart. The very fact that Comonfort has come to the United States instead of remaining in Mexico, proves him no longer to represent or belong to the Liberal party, or indeed to any other party, of that country. The progressive and constitutional party, though for the time it has lost the capital through the defection of Comonfort's soldiers, still remains in full organization, with Juarez, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and a Provisional President, at its head; who, it is well known, has organized a Liberal Government at Guanajuato, in opposition to the revolutionists who hold the capital.

To aid and countenance, as the Herald seems inclined to do, the raising of men in this country to enable Comonfort to return to Mexico—a man equally repudiated by both the great parties into which that unhappy country is divided—would be the setting on foot of a filibustering expedition, it being the distinguishing characteristic of such expeditions, that whatever their pretexts, their real object is the personal advancement and private ends of those who set them on foot. This proposed expedition may be said, in one point of view at least, to be even less defensible than Walker's Central American enterprise. Walker actually was invited to Central America by one of the two parties by which Nicaragua was divided. Comonfort, on the other hand, appears to have been equally rejected by both the corresponding parties into which Mexico is divided.

We may take this occasion to observe that Comonfort all along has been inclined to look too much to the United States to keep him in power. In his famous treaty entered into with Mr. Forsyth he was ready to mortgage both the future revenue and the Territories of the Republic to find means for the temporary replenishment of his empty treasury; and now, expelled from Mexico by the common consent of all parties in it, he proposes to go back by American aid, or rather, as we hope the case is, some volunteer and ill-advised friends of his propose that an American expedition shall be set on foot to reinstate him. But as the former attempt to lean on the United States, which had the form of legality, failed, the other, directly in the face of the neutrality laws as it is, can hardly succeed any better.

Mexico is not able to cope with the United States in a national war, but she has shown herself abundantly strong to repel filibuster enterprises. Take for example, the expeditions of Carvajal on the frontiers of Mexico and Texas, of Walker and Raousset in Sonora, of Sentmanat in Tabasco, of Zerman in Lower California, and the unfortunate end of Crabb and his followers. We can hardly expect that a similar enterprize, even if led by Comonfort, would have any other result. Immediately after Comonfort undertook his coup d'etat, Vidaurri and Garza, or what amounts to the same thing, the States of Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas, concluded a treaty of alliance offensive and defensive to defend the Constitution and oppose his usurpation. They would be ready to meet him on the frontier, and though Comonfort might escape by a second flight, it might go hard with the unfortunate men whom he had seduced to follow him.—N. Y. Tribune.

LA CROSSE & MILWAUKEE R. R.—The business on this road is rapidly increasing. The number of through passengers both ways is more than double from what it was at the first completion of the road. The character of the staging between this point and La Crosse and Black River Falls is superior to the open "mud wagon" plan of doing business on other routes. And one further consideration of some importance to the traveler is that no road in the country can boast of a more gentlemanly set of agents and conductors than this. It is a fact, remarked upon by all, that the managers of this road have been singularly fortunate in their selection of these agents.

No attention necessary for the comfort or convenience of travelers is wanting on this point, but all seem to study the wants of the wayfarer, and faithfully administer to all his wants. We are not surprised that this road is fast rising in the public confidence, and is already known throughout the country as the great thoroughfare from the eastern States to the mighty North-west. —New Lisbon Republican.

A SERIOUS SCHOOL ACCIDENT AT WAUKEGAN.—During a rehearsal preparatory to a school exhibition, at Waukegan, on Thureday last, a young girl, the daughter of Benjamin Marks, Esq., was seriously injured by the discharge of a gun. It appears, as we learn from the Gazette, that one of the boys who had a part in the rehearsal, was to fire a gun. In his haste he forgot to draw on the ramrod—fired—and the ramrod, after passing through a board petition, entered the back, near the spine, of Miss Marks, inflicting two serious wounds and causing paralysis of the lower extremities. It is feared she cannot survive.

The Gazette very properly condemns the practice of introducing fire-arms or other dangerous missiles into school exercises.

☞ Out of about thirty democratic papers in this State, there are five that go in for "consuming (we quote from the Milwaukee News of the 20th of November last) a great outrage upon the people of Kansas," i. e.—forcing the Lecompton constitution upon the same people; and strange to relate these five papers which now advocate the outrage above mentioned, are the only ones selected by the P. M. General to advertise the letting of the mail routes in this State—which advertisemcnt is worth about $800 to each paper.

Gentlemen, haven't you sold yourselves cheap? Hav'n't you deserted and repudiated the old democratic principle of "Squatter Sovereignty" "The People Shall Rule," for which you labored so hard a little more than two years ago—we ask, havn't you disposed of yourselves, in this matter, at a very low price? We don't know but 't was enough, too, considering the quality of the articles.—Washington Co. Democrat.

HOW AN UNGOVERNABLE TEMPER WAS CONTROLLED.—Mr. Clayton, author of a book on the Crimean campaign, met in his journey with a strong minded woman. He says: "We next touched at Malta, taking on board a few fresh passengers in lieu of some we landed there.—Among the new comers was a lady of a most violent temper, so ungovernable that she hated mortally all who did not agree entirely with her ideas upon everything. Her husband informed us that just before his marriage he was warned of the lady's fiery disposition, and to test the accuracy of the information, one evening as he sat next to her at dinner, he managed cleverly to jog the servant's elbow, as a plate of mock turtle soup was offered her, which of course was upset over the young lady's white dress of tulle lace.—No complaint, nor even a frown being evinced the enlightened suitor concluded that what he had heard was a mistake, and that his inamorata had the temper of a lamb who had been fed upon mashed potatoes, and as harmless as water gruel. So the marriage took place; but soon the lady's real character displayed itself, as is always the case after marriage, but never before, and his wife like a human Stromboli, was subject to fiery eruptions every ten minutes upon an average. "How is it, my dear," said the happy husband, "that having such a bad temper, you stood the ordeal by soup so well?" "Why," answered the lady, "I may have appeared indifferent at the time, but, good heavens! you should have only gone into my room a little while afterwards and seen the marks of my teeth on the bed post!"

GREAT HAUL OF COUNTERFEITERS IN INDIANA.

For some time past, an unusual amount of bogus coin and counterfeit paper has been manufactured in Northern Indiana and Illinois, and the whole country has been flooded with this spurious currency. Indiana was for a long time the center of operation. The recent developments in that State, in Noble county, by the Regulators, brought to light the fact that there was an extensive organization of counterfeiters and dealers in bogus money in the vicinity of Lafayette. The police of that place immediately set about to discover and arrest those engaged in the manufacture, more especially a man by the name of Shears, who was supposed to be at the head of the gang. The latter, however, got wind of it, and left town for this State. His effects, which he had packed up and left at the depot, to be forwarded to this city, were seized and searched, but nothing was found calculated to confirm the suspicions against him.

Two weeks ago, Duputy U. S. Marshal Seely, of Goshen, Ind., an officer of unusual efficacy, together with an adroit Sheriff, visited Lafayette and arranged a plan, whereby to discover the members of the gang, and break up this mysterious mint, whose spurious emissions nearly rivalled our genuine currency.

The leader of the gang was one David McNitt, a blacksmith by trade. He had been for several months on very intimate relations with Shears, and occupied a room with him, ostensibly for the purpose of aiding him in preparing models for a sewing machine, which Shears pretended to have invented, and for which he had applied for a patent. After Shears' departure for this city, McNitt opened a regular business in Lafayette, in the sale of bogus money. Shears, in the meantime, had come to this city, and established his mint here. On Friday morning last, McNitt arrived in Lafayette from Chicago, with a large supply of coin, and his establishment was immediately filled with customers, mostly from abroad. This favorable moment was hit upon for a descent upon the whole concern.

A detective, whom Marshal Seely had brought with him, was sent to McNitt, and succeeded without difficulty in buying fifty dollars in bogus American halves and quarters, paying twenty dollars for them. McNitt was then decoyed into the Post Office, arrested and ironed. Within an hour thirteen others were arrested, with the bogus money in their possession, and taken to jail.

At the time Shears left for Chicago, word was sent to Capt. Yates, by Marshal Seely, that he was here. He immediately set to work, with officer Smith, to spot him and his manufactory. They worked for some time unsuccessfully; in the meantime the bogus coin was slowly being disseminated through the city. Some of it was passed in stores, but the most of it in omnibuses, Shears handing the driver a bogus half and receiving forty-five cents of good money. On Friday his place was spotted, and on Saturday morning Marshal Seely arrived in this city. Saturday evening, officer Smith went to his place No. 56 Spring Street, and found him eating supper with his wife and two children, one about seven years of age and the other an infant.—Shears and his wife looked at each other steadily, as much as to say, "It's all up with us."—In an instant he sprang for a window, but the officer was too quick, and then, seeing that all attempts at escape was useless, he gave himself quietly up. Upon leaving his wife, he told her that he should probably not see her for eight years again, and left instructions for her to go to her father's. He was at once led away and lodged in the jail.

After his arrest, the rooms, which are in the upper story of the tenement, were thoroughly searched, and all the appurtenances of a bogus mint, besides a large amount of counterfeiting apparatus, were found.

Besides the mint-material, there was found a complete counterfeiting kit by the photographic process. It consisted of a large camera obscura, acids, chemical powders, four photographs on glass plates, of $5 notes on the Warren Co. Bank, Monmouth, Ill., two plates of $2 notes on the Agricultural Bank of Marion, Ill., and a genuine $2 bill of the Marine Bank, Milwaukee, pasted on glass and ready to be photographed. There were also one or two "negatives" of the Agricultural Bank, a large quantity of bill-paper, a few remnants of the sewing machine model, which he and McNitt made in Lavinyette, and several works on photography. Some bills already made, were in the room at the time of the arrest, but were undoubtedly concealed by his wife.

Marshal Seely returned to Goshen, Indiana, last night with Shears, to use him in the trial of the remainder of the gang, and he will then be remanded to this city to await his own trial.—Chicago Journal, 1st.

NEVER SAY FAIL.

BY CHARLES SWAIN.

Keep pushing—'tis wiser
Than sitting aside,
And dreaming and sighing,
And waiting the tide;
In life's earnest battle,
They only prevail
Who daily march onward,
And never say fail.

With an eye ever open,
A tongue that's not dumb,
A heart that will never
To sorrow succumb,
Youth hails and conquer,
Though thousands assail;
How strong and how mighty
Who never say fail!

Ahead, then, keep pushing;
And elbow your way,
Unheeding the envious,
All sneers that bray;
All obstacles vanish,
All enemies quail
In the might of their wisdom
Who never say fail.

In life's rosy morning,
In manhood's fair pride,
Let this be your motto
Your footsteps to guide;
In storm and in sunshine,
Whatever assail,
We'll onward and conquer,
And never say fail.

Steam on the Canals.

As the enlargement of the Erie Canal draws toward completion, the attention of those interested in navigation is drawn toward steam as a propulsive power to be used on these waters. In former times the repeated experiments of Canal steamers have failed, chiefly owing to the contracted channel and the mud banks which were injured by the swell of the paddle wheels and propellers. The enlarged canal has a much greater capacity and has banks of stone or slope walls which will not be affected by the swell.—We may now confidently look for success among the inventors of canal steamers. Some boats are now being constructed to be used next season, when there will be six feet of water in the canal.

The Buffalo Commercial states that Van Slyke, Notter & Co., of that city, have moddelled and are building a hull, and David Bell an engine, &c., of a canal propeller to be completed in a few weeks, which it is expected will exactly suit the cargo. The construction and arrangement have several new points, which overcome the obstacles heretofore met in the use of steam on the canals. They expect the present boat to carry 125 to 150 tons of cargo, according to the minimum depth of water, to Albany in five days, and to New York in six days; returning at the same rate of speed with 100 tons. To accomplish this, only an average of about three miles an hour is needed.

The only drawback to the enterprise may be Sunday at the Locks, as the present movement to close the Canal Locks on Sunday is likely to be successful.—Roch. Union and Advertiser
